THE TWO ARMIES.

BY DR. HOLMES As Life's unending column pours,
Two marshal'd hosts are seen—
Two armies on the trampled shotes
That Death flows back between.

One marches to the drum-beat roll, The wide-mouthed clarion's bray, And bears upon a crimson scroll, "Our glory is to slay."

One moves in silence by the stream

With sad, yet watchful eyes, Calm as the patient planet's gl. am That walks the clouded skies.

Along its front no sabres shine, No blood-red pennons wave; Its banner bears the single line, "Our duty is to save."

For those no death-bed's lingering shade, At honor's trumpet-call With knitted brow and lifted blade

For these no clashing falchions bright, No stirring battle-cry; The bloodless stabber calls by night— Each answers, "Here am I!"

For those the sculptor's laurel'd bust, The builder's marble piles, The anthem's pealing o'er their dust Through long cathedral aisles. For these the blossom-sprinkled turf That floods the lonely graves. When Spring rolls in her sea-green surf In flowery-foaming waves.

Two paths lea'l upward from below, And angels wait above, Who count each burning life-drop's flow, Each talling tear of Love.

Though from the hero's bleeding bree Her pulses Freedom drew, Though the white lilies in her crest. Sprang from that scarlet de While Valor's haughty champions wait Till all their scars are shown, Love walks unchallenged through the gate, To all beside the Throne!

New Orleans Market.

NEW ORLEANS, Angust 22.—Corron—We have again to report a limited movement in the staple. The market was poorly supplied, only two or three desirable lists being on sale, and as factors showed little inclination to recede from previous requirements, buyers were compelled to stand aloof throughout, their limits not authorizing them to pay the rates demanded. The rather unfavorable tone of the New York and Liverpool advices contributed not a little to the general inactivity. Hence the day's sales were restricted, aggregating barely 400 bales, taken by five brokers, at prices indicating somewhat of irregularity, but disclosing on the whole a less firm feeling.

New York Market. MONEY MARKET.

The loan market is easy and abundantly supplied at 3.55 per cent. There is an abundance of idle capital seeking employment on call, and the flow of currency to the West, though it continues, is not of so great magnitude as to disturb the working of the market. The fall of six millions in the Sub-Treasury balance is, by some persons, supposed to incicate a disbursement of currency yesterday to that amount. We find, on inquiry, that the change was produced by the transfer of six millions of compounds to Washington, which are charged to the account of the Treasury there, and do not, consequently, diminish the active currency balance in the Treasury office here. The demand for discount is small, the best bills passing at 6a6 ½. PRODUCE MARKET.

[From the Shoe and Leather Reporter.]

Boston Boot and Shoe Market—For the week ending August 21.—There has not been a great rush of trade the past week; although there is a fair number of buyers yet in town, there is not the animation to trade usual in selling seasons, and but little prospect of any immediate improvement in the demand. Leather and other materials are still maintained among the higher figures in quotations, manufacturers of Boots and Shoes are not disposed to glut the market, and only a portion of them having orders are working their full forces; with the majority the demand is light and the risk of piling up goods, at the present high cost, in advance, is too great to warrant doing more than enough to keep their forces in order, in anticipation of a renewal of trade later in the esseon, which no doubt will occur in some branches, as the greatr demand thus far has been for men's and boys' er demand thus far has been for me and only boots. Prices of the best qualities are firm, and are likely to continue so for the present; lower grades, as usual, are more fluctuating, and the demand for them is sluggish, the market favoring the buyer. The shipments for the week by sea and rail have been 32,336 cases. Same time last year it was 32,337 cases.
